Brief note of the Project

Before the implementation of Land Development Project under RKVY, Ramthar cluster under Buhchangphai village has an approximate of 25 Ha of WRC-I cultivable Area with an average production of 36 MT of Rice annually. The farmers are financially poor and are unable to employ mechanized implements for their various farm activities resulting to low production and productivity.

Implementation of the project enables the farmers in this cluster in expansion of cultivable area upto 20 Ha which has an ultimate impact on their production. Prior to this no land development works through mechanized means were carried out. This project enables the farmers to create new WRC area, and also expansion of the previous area. Production increased from 36 MT of rice to 65 MT of rice.
