Brief note of the project :

Mr. Lalramchagliana is one of the most hardworking farmer among the Durtlang village farmers. He has a land of 4.00 Ha at Arbai zau. Due to insufficiency of water resource, out of the whole land only 1.80 Ha can be utilised for cultivation of paddy during kharif season. During rabi season no vegetable crops can be grown due to lack of water.

With the construction of Water Harvesting Tank under RKVY scheme during 2015, the whole land can be utilised not only for cultivation of paddy during kharif season, but also for production of vegetables during rabi season. This infrastructure development from RKVY scheme created a drastic change in increasing their annual income and uplifted the economic condition of his family.
